Centre for Native Education

"...tomorrow dances behind the sun in sacred promise of things to come for children not yet born, for ours is the potential of truly lasting beauty born of hope and shaped by deed..."

-TOMORROW, Peter Blue Cloud

The Centre for Native Education offers support services and resources to Native students at Concordia. The Centre is a welcoming space where students can meet each other to discuss academic issues, plan social activities or just relax, have a cup of coffee or meet a new friend.

Staff and faculty are available to address individual needs and provide support and encouragement for all Native students to continue with their program and achieve their highest potential at the university.

Services include:

- Academic advising & referral
- Access to on-line library catalogues
- Computer facilities
- Documentation centre
- Group and individual study space
- Kitchen
- Phone and access to a fax machine
- Photocopier
- Student lounge
- Tutoring

In addition to providing services to Native students, the Centre seeks to increase awareness of Native issues and cultures among the Concordia community. Guest speakers, awareness days and workshops form part of regular programming throughout the year. We invite you to join our circle!
